Publication agreement

between

First name(s) and surname(s) (hereinafter: Author/Authors)

address(es),

---

e-mail address(es)

and

the University Library of Erlangen-Nürnberg (Universitätsbibliothek Erlangen-Nürnberg; hereinafter: Library)

Section 1 Object of the contract

1. The object of the contract shall be the Author's doctoral thesis/work with the title:

Date of graduation for doctoral theses: _____

2. This work is a primary publication

secondary publication (according to Section 38 (4) Urheberrechtsgesetz (UrhG, German Copyright Act) or an assignment of rights by the publisher)

3. In the case of primary publication, the Author confirms that they are entitled to grant rights of use to their work, that they have not entered into any agreements that run counter to this agreement, and that neither the complete work that is to be published nor parts of it infringe on the rights of any third parties. This shall also apply to the texts and images submitted by the Author to which the Author has rights of use. If, after publication, any claims are made of suspected or actual infringement of third party copyrights, the Author agrees to inform the Library of such claims immediately.

4. The Author If the publication has already been published (e.g. by a publisher), the Author confirms that secondary publication by the Library does not breach the original contract with the publisher or any superior laws. The author confirms that neither the complete work that is to be published nor parts of it infringe on the rights of any third parties. This shall also apply to the texts and images submitted by the Author. If any claims are made of suspected or actual infringement of third party copyrights, the Author agrees to inform the Library of such claims immediately.

Section 2 Several Authors

1. If a work has several Authors, they are co-authors of the work.
2. Therefore, a signature confirming the agreement of every Author is required for publication of the work.
3. The following additional declaration on the granting of rights from co-authors is required for editors of collected editions.

I confirm that the Authors have granted me the necessary rights for this transfer, including online publication rights. The Authors have confirmed to me as the editor that they are the sole copyright owners of their respective contributions. They guarantee that no third-party rights or legal regulations are violated, especially with regard to figures contained in the text (photographs, graphical elements).

If, after publication, any claims are made of suspected or actual infringement of third party copyrights, I agree to inform the Library of such claims immediately.

Section 3 Data transfer

The Author shall convey the data of the work to be published to the Library in a suitable format (see FAQ).

Section 4 Assignment of rights for doctoral theses

1. The Author grants the Library the right to save the doctoral thesis on its own servers, reproduce it and make it publicly available, and reproduce and distribute it on the Internet in electronic form; this right may not be restricted to any time, region or content.
2. The Library shall have the right to forward electronic copies of the doctoral thesis to the German National Library in Frankfurt/M. and Leipzig as the national library for mandatory archival copies and to the Bavarian State Library as the regional library for mandatory archival copies.
3. The Library shall have the right to forward an electronic copy of the doctoral thesis to the relevant repositories of the Sondersammelgebiete (SSG, Special Collections) bzw. Fachinformationsdienste für die Wissenschaft (FID, Scientific Information Services).
4. The Author grants the Library the right to create paper or CD-ROM copies of the doctoral thesis.
5. The Author grants the Library the right to convert the data of their doctoral thesis into other electronic or physical file formats as demanded by developments in technology. This right also applies to libraries for mandatory archival copies and to special collection(s) libraries respectively scientific information service libraries, as well as to digital preservation by contracted third-parties.

6. The Author guarantees that the digital version of the doctoral thesis is completely identical with the printed version. If a CV is an obligatory part of the doctoral thesis according to the doctoral regulations, this shall also apply to the digital version.
7. The Author retains the copyright to their work insofar as none of the Library's rights mentioned herein are restricted.
8. The Author grants the Library only the non-exclusive rights that it requires in order to carry out its services.

Section 5 Assignment of rights for other publications

1. The Author grants the Library the right to save the work on its own servers, reproduce it and make it publicly available, and reproduce and distribute it on the Internet in electronic form; this right may not be restricted to any time, region or content.
2. The Library shall have the right to forward electronic copies of the work to the German National Library in Frankfurt/M. and Leipzig as the national library for mandatory archival copies and to the Bavarian State Library as the regional library for mandatory archival copies.
3. The Library shall have the right to forward an electronic copy of the work to the relevant repositories of the Sondersammelgebiete (SSG, Special Collections) bzw. Fachinformationsdienste für die Wissenschaft (FID, Scientific Information Services).
4. The Author grants the Library the right to create paper or CD-ROM copies of the work.
5. The Author grants the Library the right to convert the data of their work into other electronic or physical file formats as demanded by developments in technology. This right also applies to libraries for mandatory archival copies and to special collection(s) libraries respectively scientific information service libraries, as well as to digital preservation by contracted third-parties.
6. The Author retains the copyright to their work insofar as none of the Library's rights mentioned herein are restricted.
7. The Author grants the Library only the non-exclusive rights that it requires in order to carry out its services.

Section 6 The Library's obligations

1. The Library shall be obligated to permanently store the doctoral thesis/work and distribute it via the Internet within its technical and organisational capabilities.
2. The Library shall ensure the integrity of the content of the data during migration and conversion of files.

Section 7 Liability

1. The Library strives for uninterrupted availability of the websites on its server.
2. The Author confirms by their signature that neither the publication of their doctoral thesis/work on the Library's publicly accessible websites nor the granting of rights of use to the Library according to Section 1 of this contract infringes upon third-party rights; the Author shall indemnify the Library from any third-party claims.
3. The Library's liability shall be limited to cases of premeditation or gross negligence.

Section 8 Final provisions

1. The place of jurisdiction shall be Erlangen; the agreement shall be subject to German law.
2. Amendments to this contract shall be made in writing.
3. In matters upon which the parties have not agreed in this contract, the statutory provisions shall apply.
